

Another reason to buy Green Green Tea™ is that its box is full of fascinating facts which you can use time and time again when showing off your eco-friendly nouse! These include some of the following:

- Another ice age is just going to make everyone cold, miserable and grumpy.
- Drinking Green Green Tea™ is a lot more fun than chaining yourself to a tree. Trust us, chains are very uncomfortable to wear, bark is scratchy, trees have all kinds of creepy crawly things living in them and bulldozers are big and scary.
- Making sure there is somewhere for you kids to live when they grow up – otherwise they'll never leave home!

The packaging is of course also green as is created with board made from managed forestry, which is the most earth-friendly board available, and besides, Sharyn explains that managed trees don't get rowdy—did you see what those trees did in Lord of the Rings?

On a serious note, Sharyn concludes: "Not only is my latest tea packed with nutritional goodness in the form of antioxidants and made from the finest quality Chun Mee leaves, it also produces a clear pale coloured mellow flavoured tea. But that's not all! It also helps to save the earth which is something I believe we should all be trying to do. Tea is one of the most widely consumed beverages in the world after water so why not make it good for the earth at the same time?"

Green Green Tea™ loose tea bags come in a box of 20 and retail at £6.45 from Harvey Nichols and selected independent speciality stores.
